- 2001 ROLF SCHOCK PRIZE AWARDED TO KRIPKE. The Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences has announced that the 2001 Rolf Schock Prize in Logic and Philosophy has been awarded to Saul A. Kripke, Professor Emeritus at Princeton University, “for his creation of the modal-logical semantics that bear his name and for his associated original and profound investigations of identity, reference and necessity.” Dr. Schock, who died in 1986, specified in his will that half of his estate should be used to fund four prizes in the fields of logic and philosophy, mathematics, the visual arts, and music. Beginning in 1993, the prizes are awarded every two years at a joint ceremony. The 2001 Prizes carry an award of approximately $50,000.
- FOUNDATION FOR POLISH SCIENCE ANNUAL AWARD TO NEWELSKI. The Foundation for Polish Science (FNP) recently announced that Professor Ludomir Newelski of the Mathematical Institute of Wrocław University and the Mathematical Institute of the Polish Academy of Sciences, has been awarded an FNP Annual Award. Four of these awards are granted each year to Polish scholars and scientists for remarkable achievements or findings in the exact sciences, medicine and the life sciences, the humanities and social sciences, and the technical sciences. The FNP was registered in 1991 as an independent, self-financing, non-profit institution whose mission is to support Polish science, humanities, and technology. - DE GRUYTER DISCOUNT FOR ASL MEMBERS. Beginning January 1, 2002, ASL members are entitled to a 25% discount on all volumes in the de Gruyter Series in Logic and its Applications. Orders must be placed via email at orders@degruyter.de or by fax at 49-30-26005222. Please indicate “ASL Member” on each order.
- STUDENT TRAVEL AWARDS: THE 2002 ASL ANNUAL MEETING AND THE 2002 ASL EUROPEAN SUMMER MEETING. The ASL will make available modest travel awards to graduate students in logic and (for the European Summer Meeting only) to recent Ph.D.’s so that they may attend the 2002 ASL Annual Meeting in Las Vegas, Nevada, or the 2002 ASL European Summer Meeting in Münster, Germany; see below for information about these meetings. To be considered for a Travel Award, please (1) send a letter of application and (2) ask your thesis supervisor to send a brief recommendation letter. The application letter should be brief (one page) and should include (1) your name, (2) your home institution, (3) your thesis supervisor’s name, (4) a one-paragraph description of your studies and work in logic, (5) your estimate of the travel expenses you will incur, (6) (for citizens or residents of the USA) citizenship or visa status, and (7) (voluntary) indication of your gender and minority status. Only modest grants will be possible, partially covering travel costs and perhaps some of the living expenses during the meeting. Women and members of minority groups are strongly encouraged to apply. In addition to funds provided by the ASL, this program of travel grants is supported by a grant from the US National Science Foundation; NSF funds may be awarded only to students at US universities and to citizens and permanent residents of the USA. Air travel paid for using NSF funds must be on a US airline. For both meetings, application by email is encouraged; put “ASL travel application” in the subject line of your message.

For the 2002 ASL Annual Meeting, applications and recommendations should be received before the deadline of March 15, 2002, by the Program Chair: Theodore Slaman, Department of Mathematics, University of California Berkeley, Berkeley, California 94720, USA; email: slaman@math.berkeley.edu.
