

THE SUMMER MEETING IN VANCOUVER

The sixty-seventh Summer Meeting of the American Mathematical Society was held at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, B. C., on Tuesday through Friday, August 28–31, 1962, in conjunction with meetings of the Mathematical Association of America, and the Society for Industrial and Applied Mathematics. The registration at the meetings was 595, including 420 members of the Society.

By invitation of the Committee to Select Hour Speakers for Annual and Summer Meetings, hour addresses were presented to the Society by Professor C. C. Lin of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Professor Charles Loewner of Stanford University, Professor Albert Nijenhuis of the University of Washington, Professor R. S. Pierce of the University of Washington, and Professor R. L. Vaught of the University of California, Berkeley. Professor Lin's address, entitled Hydrodynamic stability—a study in applied mathematics, was given at 9:00 A.M. on Wednesday. He was introduced by Professor R. D. James. Professor Loewner spoke at 2:00 P.M. on Thursday. His talk On semigroups in analysis and geometry was introduced by Professor M. H. Protter. The title of Professor Nijenhuis' talk was Derivations and structure. It was given at 2:00 P.M. on Tuesday. Professor Nijenhuis was introduced by Professor A. M. Gleason. Professor Pierce spoke at 9:00 A.M. Friday on Representations of lattices. He was introduced by Professor J. W. Green. Professor Vaught's address was entitled Models of complete theories. This talk was given at 9:00 A.M. on Thursday. Professor Vaught was introduced by Professor R. A. Beaumont.

There were thirteen sessions for contributed papers. The presiding officers at these sessions were Professor W. R. Abel, Dr. J. W. Armstrong, Professor C. W. Clark, Professor R. K. Getoor, Professor V. L. Klee, Professor T. J. McMinn, Professor M. D. Marcus, Professor R. D. Mayer, Dr. E. S. O'Keefe, Professor J. D. Reid, Professor R. A. Restrepo, Professor Charles Wexler, and Professor D. C. Williams.

Abstracts of the papers presented in person appear in the Notices of the American Mathematical Society for August, 1962.

A tea was presented by the Mathematics Department of the University of British Columbia at 4:00 P.M. on Tuesday. There was a salmon barbecue at 6:00 P.M. on Wednesday.
