

CONFERENCE ANNOUNCEMENTS

Las Meninas Symposium Summer Symposium in Real Analysis XLVII

WHEN: June 16 – 20, 2025

WHERE: Madrid, Spain

Talks will begin Monday morning, June 16 and conclude Friday afternoon, June 20, therefore, in order to fully attend the Symposium, plan your arrival day as Sunday, June 15 and your departure day as Saturday June 21. The main venue will be the Facultad de Ciencias Matemáticas at Complutense University of Madrid.

Although not all Plenary Lectures have been selected at this printing, however we are excited to announce that Per H. Enflo (Professor Emeritus at Kent State University, USA) and Luis Bernal González (Professor at Universidad de Sevilla, Spain) will deliver two of them.

We expect to organize many 20-minutes talks by both junior and senior researchers, and encourage you to submit your topics during registration. Registration will be available at www.realanalexch.org in November.

There will also be time set aside for collaborative work and, as usual, a major goal is to create an atmosphere encouraging easy exchange of ideas.

For registration and the most recent information see:
