

EDITORIAL MESSAGES

By Paul D. Humke and Lars Olsen, Editors-in-Chief

Contributions 1. Several individuals have made substantial monetary contributions to the Exchange this past year. Although anonymous, we would like to thank them for the essential help they have provided us as the Exchange transitioned from an academic home at St. Olaf College to a new status as a 501C3 Private Operating Foundation. In particular, this new status means that contributions to the Exchange are fully tax deductible and that gifting to the Exchange can be done in many different ways. Particular thanks to David Dugan of Lexington, Virginia whose expertise with the IRS code enabled relative sanity to prevail throughout the process.

Contributions 2. If you would like to contribute to the work of the Exchange or to investigate how such funds are used, please contact Paul Humke at analysisr@gmail.com.

Continuing Production Changes. As of volume 49 number 2, papers will appear on Project Euclid only a week or two after their acceptance date. Dr. Sworowska led this not so trivial change. Thanks very much Tanya!

Continuing Thanks. Continuing thanks to Journals Manager, Natalie Eidenier and her staff at Michigan State University Press who do final copy editing for the Exchange and shepherd each issue through the printing and distribution process.

Project Euclid Access. Access to most of the back issues of the Exchange is now available on Project Euclid.

Author Class File. Our `raex.cls` L^AT_EX classfile is used with every paper published in the Exchange. This classfile utilizes a format for entering author, title, and other information that is particularly convenient for extracting that information for the various databases that list the Exchange. An author version of the `raex.cls` classfile is available at our website: www.stolaf.edu/analysis.

Michigan State University Press. If you are contemplating writing a textbook on a subject in mathematics, or a memoir, please consider using the Michigan State University Press as your publisher. The Press is a non-profit organization affiliated with Michigan State University that offers superior service and much lower costs than commercial publishers, along with complimentary advertising in Real Analysis Exchange.
