Gottlob Frege, La "risposta" di Frege, Notizie di Logica XI (n. 1, gennaio-giugno, 1992), 45. Italian translation of part of Frege's October 1902 letter in reply to Russell's famous letter of June 1902, reprinted from Frege, *Logica e aritmetica. Includes Herbert Breger's A restoration that failed: Paul Finsler's theory of sets, which argues that Finsler's axioms were part of an attempt to return to nineteenth-century concepts and standards, and Donald Gillies' The Fregean revolution in logic, which compares Frege's Begriffsschrift and modern logic textbooks such as Mendelson's Introduction to mathematical logic (1964) and Bell and Machover's, A course in mathematical logic (1977) to evaluate the extent of the Fregean revolution in logic.
