

Modern Logic $\omega$

Instructions for authors

Contributions may be in Dutch, English, French, German, Italian, Polish, Russian, or Spanish. In exceptional cases, contributions may also be accepted in Japanese or Portuguese. Please submit contributions to the most appropriate editorial board member (for areas of specialization and languages in which each board member will accept papers, refer to the Editorial Board Membership listing).

All contributions will be refereed. Our policy is to provide a source for the most expeditious publication possible at the lowest possible cost to subscribers of papers of high scholarly quality. This places the primary duty for the careful preparation of manuscripts upon the individual authors. We therefore request that authors submit camera-ready contributions in hard copy (paper, in triplicate) or in electronic form. Authors are also responsible for the careful proofreading of their own work, as editorial board members and referees are neither required nor expected to act as proofreaders or typesetters, and editors may return to the author any paper requiring editorial corrections.

Reproduction of manuscripts by a photographic process requires that all contributions, and especially those submitted in hard copy (paper), should be prepared with a printed area not exceeding 14 x 22.5 cm. (or 5 1/2 x 9 inches), with left- and right-hand margins of 3.75 cm. (or 1 1/2 inches) and top and bottom margins being at least 2.5 cm. (or 1 inch). Pages should not be permanently numbered by the authors, since pagination will be provided by the journal; instead, authors should write page numbers in pencil only on the blank verso of their manuscript.

The first page of articles should include the title of the paper, author's name, mailing address (and institutional affiliation), a brief abstract or descriptive summary (not longer than one page), written in one or more of the journal's languages, preferably English, French, German, or Russian, and the appropriate AMS (MOS) 1980 subject classifications (1985 revision). Authors of book reviews need only provide (at the head of their paper) their name, address, and complete bibliographical information for the book which they are reviewing.