ADVANCED SCIENCE SEMINAR IN DATA ANALYSIS

The National Science Foundation has awarded Colorado State University a grant to hold the second in a series of Advanced Science Seminars in Data Analysis. The seminar will be held this summer at the university campus from August 4 through August 15. Fifteen participants from the statistical research community in the United States will be invited to join the seminar leader, Professor A. P. Dempster from Harvard University, in a series of discussions on multivariate problems and techniques in data analysis. The Director of the program is Professor J. S. Williams, Department of Mathematics and Statistics, Colorado State University, Fort Collins, Colorado 80521.

ABSTRACTS TO THE NEW MANAGING EDITOR

Hereafter, abstracts of papers should be sent to Professor Kempton C. Smith, Department of Statistics, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, North Carolina 27514, instead of Professor Paul Meyer at Pullman, Washington. Beginning with the August issue of the Annals, Professor Smith will assume the duties of the Managing Editor.
