

EDITORIAL MESSAGE

At its last meeting the editorial board decided to upgrade the Queries section. As part of that effort the section now has its own editor, Professor Richard J. O'Malley. As is noted in the Notice to Contributors page, all queries should be sent to him. In addition all authors are asked to submit separately to him any problems they may raise in the papers they publish in the Exchange . It is the board's hope that the Queries section will become a section you, our readers, will read and use. Please help us in this endeavor.
