

Synthese

An International Journal for Epistemology, Methodology and Philosophy of Science

Editor-in-Chief

Jaakko Hintikka, Dept. of Philosophy, Florida State University, Tallahassee, USA

Synthese publishes articles in all the fields covered by the subtitle. These include the theory of knowledge; the general methodological problems of science, such as the problems of scientific discovery and scientific inference, those aspects of symbolic logic and of the foundations of mathematics which are relevant to the philosophy and methodology of science; and those facets of the history and sociology of science which are important for contemporary topical pursuits.

Linguistics and Philosophy

An International Journal

Managing Editors

Robin Cooper, Dept. of Linguistics, University of Wisconsin, Madison, USA, Richard E. Grandy, Dept. of Philosophy, Rice University, Houston, USA

Linguistics and Philosophy is a journal for studies of natural languages and will interest philosophers as well as linguists. Contributions come in the form of articles, review articles, notes, discussions, and remarks and replies. Topics which fall within the scope of the journal include

- Traditional areas in the philosophy of language such as meaning and truth, reference, description, entailment, speech acts, and generality to be of philosophical interest as well),
- Traditional areas of linguistics such as syntax, semantics and pragmatics (when the studies are of sufficient explicitness and generality to be of philosophical interest as well),
- Systems of logic with strong connections to natural language: modal logic, tense logic, epistemic logic, intensional logic,
- Philosophically interesting problems at the intersection of linguistics and other disciplines: language acquisition, language and perception, language as a social convention,
- Philosophical questions raised by linguistics as a science: linguistic methodology, the status of linguistic theories, the nature of linguistic universals,
- Aspects of artificial intelligence concerned with language such as computational linguistics and natural language processing

NOÛS

Prof. Hector-Neri Castañeda, editor, Indiana University
Prof. Earl Conee, associate editor, University of Rochester

The primary purpose of Noûs is to publish outstanding essays that extend the frontiers of philosophical research. Noûs emphasizes positive theoretical work that takes full account of current developments in philosophy. There are no editorial restrictions on either the area of philosophy that is discussed or the philosophical orientation of the discussion. Noûs offers several distinctive services to its readers:

CRITICAL REVIEWS: Each issue contains detailed evaluations of a few important recent philosophical books.

CENTRAL DIVISION SYMPOSIA PAPERS: The March issue of each volume is devoted to the invited addresses for the year's American Philosophical Association Central Division Meetings.

SPECIAL TOPIC ISSUES: Frequently an issue will contain a collection of major papers on a single central philosophical topic, often guest-edited by a leading authority on the topic.

Subscription Rates for Volume XXI (1987) only: Individuals: 1 year $20.00, 2 years $38.00, 3 years $56.00; Institutions: 1 year $40.00, 2 years $80.00, 3 years $120.00. Please add $4.00 postage per year for all foreign subscriptions.

INQUIRIES SHOULD BE SENT TO: Noûs, Department of Philosophy, Indiana University Sycamore 126, Bloomington, Indiana 47405 USA.

GUIDE TO AUTHORS

The Journal encourages submission of articles in all areas of philosophical and mathematical logic; philosophy of language and formal semantics for natural languages; and the philosophy, history, and foundations of logic and mathematics.

Manuscripts (including notes and references) should be typed on one side of the page only, double-spaced with wide margins. Since manuscripts are refereed anonymously, we ask that the author's name and institutional affiliation be kept on a separate cover sheet. Handwritten symbols, uppercase vs lowercase letters, ambiguous symbols (l vs 1, o vs O and 0, etc.), type style changes, and non-Roman characters should be identified in the margin. "Notes" that are merely page indications should be placed in the body of the text (e.g., [5], p. 29), non-trivial notes being cited in the text by a superscript number and grouped after the manuscript text, but preceding the references. References should be numbered and alphabetized by the author's last name and then, for multiple works by the same author, by date. References should include the article title, unabbreviated journal name, volume number, year, and page numbers. Book references should include the publisher, city, and year of publication. For examples, see recent issues. Three clean copies should be sent to Editors, P.O. Box 5, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556, U.S.A.

Page proofs are sent to authors for correction of errors that occur in composition. Any special composition costs arising from an author's revision of the text in proof may be charged to the author. Fifty reprints, without covers, will be supplied free of charge; covers or additional reprints may be purchased.

The Notre Dame Journal of Formal Logic is published quarterly by the University of Notre Dame in the Winter, Spring, Summer, and Fall of each year. Yearly subscriptions are $40.00 for institutions and $20.00 for individuals. Back volumes are $20.00 each for Volumes 1–10 and $35.00 each for Volumes 11–28. Orders (accompanied by payment in U.S. funds only) and changes of address should be sent to Michele Daugherty, Business Manager, P.O. Box 5, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556, U.S.A.
