SIU TRANSLATION CENTER—HUMANITIES DIVISION

Fritz Marti, Director

Starting in the summer of 1966 we have been collecting information about translations in progress in the field of philosophy. Within the limits of our files we have been able to advise prospective translators whether or not the work they intended to translate was already being translated somewhere else. Our information is also available to publishers interested in some book or some author.

We should like to make our service as dependable as possible and to this end we urge every translator at work on a philosophical book or essay to let us know so that we can keep our files up to date. The information we give out is free. Sample lists of books in process of translation will soon appear in certain professional journals. Further information is available by mail. Of course if a translator does not want us to give out his name and address we shall respect his wish.
