NOVEMBER MEETING IN EVANSTON

The five hundred seventy-fifth meeting of the American Mathematical Society was held at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, on Friday and Saturday, November 25–26, 1960. All sessions were in the Technological Institute. There were 154 registrations, of whom 127 were members of the Society.

The Committee to Select Hour Speakers for Western Sectional Meetings had invited Professor Graham Higman of Oxford and the University of Chicago to address the Society. He spoke at 2:30 P.M., Friday, in Lecture Room 1 on the subject Recursive functions in group theory. Professor John G. Thompson presided.

Sessions for the presentation of contributed papers were held at 10:30 A.M. on Friday and 10:00 A.M. on Saturday. Presiding officers were Professors Eldon Dyer, Alex Rosenberg, and R. R. Goldberg.

The local department of mathematics held a tea for the Society on Friday afternoon.
