EDITORIAL MESSAGES

By Paul D. Humke

Thanks. It's hard to know where to begin thanking someone who's been so involved with the Exchange from it's very conception. Mike Evans was not merely a co-founder of the Exchange he coined the name of the journal and has worked with me, Cliff Weil and most of the Associate and Contributing Editors for almost forty years. This year he steps down from his current position as Associate Editor. It's been a great honor to work with someone as dedicated and competent as Mike; thank you hardly seems adequate. But, "Thank you, Mike!"

Thanks too for the dedicated work of our Assistant Editors, Margaret Flint of St. Olaf College, and Michael White of Washington and Lee University during this past year.

I'd also like to thank Frank Cater both for his mathematical contributions and his financial support of the Exchange over more than three decades. Frank's Tricks of the Trade is currently available for download at the Exchange website.

Author Class File. Our raex.cls LaTeX classfile is used with every paper published in the Exchange. This classfile utilizes a format for entering author, title and other information that is particularly convenient for extracting that information for the various databases that list the Exchange. An author version of the raex.cls classfile is available at our website: `www.stolaf.edu/analysis`.

Advertisements. Please note the advertisements at the end of each issue, which may be of interest to Exchange readers. Others promote Michigan State University Press publications and therefore help support the production of our journal. If you have written a book, or have an item of interest you wish to publicize in the Journal, please contact the Michigan State University Press Journals Division.

Michigan State University Press. If you are contemplating writing a textbook on a subject in mathematics, or a memoir, please consider using the Michigan State University Press as your publisher. The Press is a non-profit organization affiliated with Michigan State University that offers superior service and much lower costs than commercial publishers, along with complimentary advertising in Real Analysis Exchange.
